Something to Write Home About Museum of Northwest Colorado

Background: Located in an old armory, this museum has three levels full of exhibits that help tell the story of the American West. With all this history, it's time for some fun. Design a postcard of the museum and send it to a friend or relative describing what you saw during your visit.

Questions to ask:

1. Who do you think would enjoy the museum?
2. What would you tell them the best part of the museum is?
3. What are the parts of a postcard? Recipient's address, stamp on the right, and on the left side date, greetings, message (including the kid's favorite part) and your signature. On the other side a picture of the museum.

Activity: In the first box, design your postcard by drawing an image that best represents the museum in your opinion. Then, in the second box, draft your message - be sure to include your favorite part of the museum.
